

The Missing Children's Network Reprint Policy

The Missing Children's Network appreciates the use of its publications in order to promote its mission, as well as to help parents, educators and children address issues relating to personal safety. All information contained within our publications is owned or licensed to the Missing Children's Network which retains all proprietary rights to the information. Publications cannot be reproduced in whole or in part without the express written consent of the Missing Children's Network.

Following are the terms and conditions that must be complied with when reprinting any of our publications:

- The Missing Children's Network's documentation is to be used unaltered and in its entirety for educational, non-commercial purposes. Under no circumstances are the Missing Children's Network's publications to be used for fundraising purposes.
- The Missing Children's Network's documentation and publications cannot be used in any way that may create an impression of affiliation, partnership, sponsorship or endorsement by the Missing Children's Network with any individual, entity, product, service, program or event.
- The intended use of the publications may not conflict in any way with the Missing Children's Network's standards for child safety.
- The Missing Children's Network must be acknowledged and cited as the source.
- The Missing Children's Network reserves the right to terminate at any time it deems necessary the immediate use and distribution of its publications.

All requests to reprint unaltered excerpts of the Missing Children's Network's publications must be pre-authorized by the Network. Kindly submit your request and include the following information:

- Name of Organization/Association
- Purpose of your request – who will benefit from the use of our publications? How will the information be distributed?
- Duration – how long will our excerpts be in circulation?
- Name of publication(s) that will be reprinted.
- A proof of the proposed reprint.
- Any accompanying text and/or images.
- The amount of copies that will be printed and how you plan on using any remaining copies.

Please address your request to info@enfant-retourquebec.ca

Once the Missing Children's Network has approved your request to reprint unaltered excerpts of its publications, you will receive a letter of intent as well as a "Terms of Agreement" form to be signed and returned to our office.
